SAUVIGNON BLANC 'Fat Lady' Hasher Family Wines – Frederik Hasher	2022
Hermanus, Western Cape	£55

100% Sauvignon Blanc from southwest facing slopes at 203m above sea level approximately 5.19km from the cool South Atlantic Ocean. All grapes were handpicked early in the morning on Friday 18th March 2022 & less than 6000 bottles produced. This vintage is the swansong for this beautiful wine as the vines have unfortunately now been uprooted.

Australia & New Zealand

Australia is arguably the most successful new world producer; the cooler climate of Adelaide Hills in South Australia provides the perfect climate for the grapes to grow and reach their full potential with many other regions becoming known for making specific varietals in specific styles.

The first edition of Hugh Johnson's World Atlas of Wine in the 1970's made no mention of New Zealand yet over the last 20 years the country has now made a name for itself for producing fantastic quality wine. Cool-climate varietals are the focus of attention especially the wonderful Sauvignon Blancs from Marlborough, but other regions and varietals are rapidly making a name for themselves too.

A very tight pruning is carried out and, very unusually for Beaujolais, the vines are pruned on the double-guyot system, trained on wires, giving the grapes better aeration and sun exposure.
